

GTA TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Dispute Resolution Service & Arbitration

DGMDIS506A - Maintain knowledge of the GTA Dispute Resolution Service

Workshop

This is a one day workshop designed for those who would like a greater understanding of the GTA dispute resolution mechanisms and processes.

It is suitable for traders and all levels of management, especially retained legal staff. This workshop is free to GTA Approved Arbitrators.

The workshop provides an appreciation and understanding of the role of arbitration, the process and the legislative framework along with the processes that should be followed at the commencement of and duration of arbitration. Topics covered include:

- Overview of the GTA DRS and the current Commercial Arbitration Act.
- GTA Dispute Resolution Service
- Commencing and Conducting an Arbitration
- GTA Arbitrators – their appointment, role and responsibilities
- Common Issues Faced By Arbitrators
- Awards

Fees

GTA workshop fees include resource materials, a login to the student management system and the assessment. Refer to the GTA Workshop Registration Form for costs.

The workshop is fully catered and course materials are provided on the day. Pre-reading is not required.

The assessment will be available online for those working toward accreditation for the Diploma of Grain Management.

Assessment

The cost of the assessment is covered in the workshop enrolment fee.

The assessment will be available online and completion is optional but is a requirement for those seeking credit toward the GTA Diploma of Grain Management.

'Assessment Only' is available for those who believe they have sufficient industry experience or have attended the relevant GTA workshop in the last three years.

Course Presenter

Geoff Farnsworth – Geoff is a lawyer with over 20 years experience, whose specialty is in transport and commodities related law.

Geoff regularly advises major transport and commodity companies in relation to contracting and dispute resolution.

Geoff is a regular presenter at conferences and seminars, and a director of Grain Trade Australia Ltd.

