Dear Sir/Madam

RE: Inquiry into Implications of Severe Weather events on the National Regional, Rural, and Remote Road Network

1. About Grain Trade Australia

Grain Trade Australia (GTA) is a national member association and is the focal point for the commercial grain industry within Australia.

GTA has over 270 organisations as members. Their businesses range from regional family businesses to large national and international trading/storage and handling companies who are involved in grain trading activities, grain storage, grain marketing advisory services, processing grain for human consumption and stock feed milling. GTA Members are substantial employers, from the farm gate through to end point consumption, and notably in rural and regional Australia. A full list of GTA Members can be found here and as an addendum to this correspondence.

GTA's core focus is to 'facilitate trade' in the Australian grain industry. It's products and services, including the Australia Grain Industry Code of Practice, provides a self-regulatory framework across the grain industry to facilitate and promote the trade of grain within the Australian grain value chain.

Within this context, on behalf of its members, GTA provides comment into this Inquiry into the implications of severe weather events on the national regional, rural and remote road network.

2. The Grain Industry

The 2021/22 season was an exceptional year for the Australian grain industry. Australia produced a record crop of 67.4 million metric tonnes (MT) (12% above the previous record of 58.14 MT in 2020/21) and exports of 45.4 MT. ABARES estimate of industry value for 2021/22 is a record $27.5 billion for 2021/22 and export value at $23.8 billion.

Australian grain supply chain participants including GTA members have successfully managed the monumental task to receive, store and move more grain than ever before, while ensuring the grain quality and food safety throughout the supply chain. In 2021/22 Australian exporters shipped approximately 47.3 MT of grain.

3. Supply Chain Focus is Critical for Competitiveness and Growth

The future success of Australia's grain industry is dependent on an efficient and competitive supply chain. GTA has developed an innovative growth and investment strategy for the grain supply chain called 'Modernising the grain supply chain – from drought, through Covid-19 to 2030'.

Around 30-35% of a grower's total cost is supply chain costs. Global competition is intensifying. The quality advantage for Australian grain is reducing as processors and consumers increase their efficiency and utilisation of grain from alternative and cheaper origins and utilise technology to enable flexibility and use of different quality raw materials. This is applying pressure on Australian margins, and costs at both farm and supply chain level. Australia must compete and develop competitive advantage on both the grain quality/value and the supply chain fronts.

To enhance the competitiveness of the Australian value chain government, need to play a significant role in investing in the long-term future to increase productivity and reduce supply chain costs to ensure our market position and to improve farm gate returns.

GTA would contend that in seeking to develop policy to improve the position of Australia and importantly the Australian agricultural industry, the grain supply chain must be a focus and an important policy consideration must be the state and condition of national regional, rural and the remote road network.

A focus on the grain supply chain is required to improve competitiveness and extract economic value for producers and consumers. Being able to produce grain and move it market relies on having efficient supply chains in the domestic and export markets to ensure demand opportunities and supply can be matched.

An efficient supply chain requires fit for purpose roads. This includes the funding for roads that will support the current and future road transport technology and their efficiency requirements including supporting company and industry sustainability goals and targets.

4. Inquiry Terms of Reference

The Terms of Reference are relatively narrow and are weighted towards an engineering solution to the current issues. It is noted previous Government studies of the impact of climate change, including severe weather on road infrastructure have been broader in scope. Austroads provided its views in 2004 in an Australian study of the Impact of Climate Change on Road Infrastructure. The project objective was to:

- provide an assessment of likely local effects of climate change for all Australia for the next 100 years, based on the best scientific assessment currently available;
- assess the likely impacts on patterns of demography and industry, and hence on the demand for road infrastructure;
- identify the likely effects on existing road infrastructure and potential adaptation measures in road construction and maintenance; and
- report on policy implications arising from the findings of the project.

The analysis and findings of this 2004 report are still relevant and are further supported by the current weather impacted conditions of the rural road network. Climatic change, severe weather events and increased demand on roads require strategic, considered, and consistent Government policy to ensure road networks can support and develop a safe supply chain that provides for competitiveness and growth.

GTA and its members support an Australian Government policy that will consider the impacts of climate change, changes in demand for road use and seeks advances in maintenance, road design and road materials accordingly.

5. Conclusion

GTA welcomes the opportunity offered by the House Standing Committee on Regional Development, Infrastructure and Transport to provide comment on the implications of severe weather events on the national regional, rural, and remote road network.

A balanced approach to strategic policy settings and a capability for oversight and forecast supply chain trends and future shocks are critical elements to providing the infrastructure required to support a competitive and capable Australian supply chain including its rural roads.

I look forward to the progress of this inquiry and further opportunities to engage and provide input.

Thank you for your consideration of this response.
